

Sri Lankan Agriculture market- Livestock sub sector

Sri Lankan Agriculture sector consist with many sub sectors, among them "Livestock" sub sector is one of the important but less contributed sector for gross domestic production in Sri Lanka. Dairy products are come under this sector and the importance of increasing the dairy products in Sri Lanka raise due to the huge damage faced by the imported milk industry. Sri Lankan Livestock policy set their goal to achieve 50% domestic milk production in 2015, so it is essential for have progressive action to increase the national production without only limit it to the policies.
