

Quiz questions and answers.

Stage 1, Lesson 2

Define tsunami and describe how they occur (incl wave energy and speed)

Answer the questions below by selecting the correct option.

	Question	Correct Answer
1	Which of the following is a tsunami warning sign? a. Water falling back quickly from the beach. b. Pets and animals act in a strange manner. c. The weather gets stormy. d. None of the above.	A
2	What should you do if there is a tsunami warning issued? a. Pack your belongings and leave as soon as possible. b. Head immediately to higher ground or inland. c. Go down to the shore to check if it is correct. d. Look for your pets and put them away first.	B
3	How far inland should you go if there is a warning of a tsunami? a. Go down to the beach to look. b. One hundred metres. c. Five hundred metres. d. As far inland as you can.	D
4	How high above sea level should you try to get if there is warning of a tsunami? a. 5 metres above sea level. b. 10 metres above sea level. c. As high up as you can go. d. Just high enough to get a good view of the beach.	C
5	What should you never do if there is a tsunami warning? a. Listen to the radio for more information. b. Check your family emergency plan. c. Head to the beach to check if the tsunami is coming. d. Stay calm.	C
6	What should you do if there is a large or slow earthquake while you are on the beach? a. Stay put and wait for instructions b. Ignore it c. Move inland or uphill in a few minutes. d. Move inland or uphill immediately.	D
7	What colours are used on tsunami warning signage in New Zealand? a. Green and yellow. b. White and blue. c. White and green. d. Red, green and yellow.	B
8	What does the sign below tell you? 	A
9	Which of the following is not a category of tsunami signage? a. Evacuation zone. b. Information board c. Evacuation route. d. Watch wave from this location.	D
10	What information should be on a tsunami information board at the beach? a. Tsunami hazard characteristics. b. Tsunami evacuation guidance. c. Local information and tsunami history. d. All of the above.	D